MUSCLE SHOALS OFFER IS NOT CONFIRMED

Twins Cinch Flag For First Half of Season

HENRY FORD HAS NOT MADE OVERTURE TO PURCHASE NITRATE PLANT AT SHOALS

Secretary Has Not Received Anything Indicating Reports Are Well Founded

AUTHORIZATION MUST COME FROM CONGRESS

"Muscle Shoals" Relegated to the Proposition of "Political Expediency"

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 14.—Thus far the War Department has received no overtures from Henry Ford for the purchase of the Nitrate project, Muscle Shoals, it was announced today.

Recurring reports that Ford is to buy the plant have been brought to the attention of the Secretary of War, but thus far he has received nothing to indicate that the reports are well founded.

Secretary Weeks is on record as favoring the sale of the Muscle Shoals project.

There is a general understanding that authorization for the sale would have to be secured from Congress and it is believed that if an offer is received that some delay might be caused in securing the consent of Congress in as much as Muscle Shoals has been a favorite bone of contention for several years.

A special to the Nashville Tennessean dated Washington, July 14, contains the following matter regarding the Ford investigation of the Muscle Shoals territory.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—There is no doubt that Henry Ford, the Detroit automobile manufacturer, is preparing to submit a bid to the federal government for the purchase of, or for a long-term lease upon the vast Muscle Shoals plant near Sheffield, Ala.

His engineers, who accompanied him recently upon an inspection tour of the properties, have recently completed their reports, and Mr. Ford is said to be ready to submit a formal proposition to Secretary of War Weeks.

Reports has it that Mr. Ford will offer to buy outright two large cyanamide plants for a sum in the neighborhood of $10,000,000, while he will submit a proposition to lease for a long term of years power from the Wilson dam at a yearly rental sufficient to meet the interest charges upon an investment of some $30,000,000. These are only approximate figures and by no means authentic.

Lease Upon Water Power.

Under the proposed lease, the government will complete the building of the huge dam, while Mr. Ford and his interest will have exclusive use of the water power derived from it for a long period, at a heavy annual rental that eventually will repay the cost of the work. He also will be compelled to retain power, current and fertilizer to consumers within a wide radius of Muscle Shoals at a fixed price above cost of production.

The commercial development of the two nitrate plants and of the completed dam, however, is said, is not all that the plans of the automobile wizard contemplates. He purposes also to build a very large unit nearby at which he would manufacture both his automobile and his tractor. Built in the heart of the South, high freight rates from Detroit would be avoided, while a more thorough understanding and use of his tractor would give him a large market in the center of a big agricultural belt.

The government already has spent approximately $105,000,000 upon the construction work of the Wilson dam and one of the two nitrate plants. The latter, which occupy approximately 3,900 acres and which are capable of supplying 110,000,000 tons each of nitrates, are closed down on account of the incompletion of the dam, which would afford 600,000 horsepower en-

Mongolians Seem Disposed Disarm; English Confer

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Japan has informed the United States that she will be "happy to participate in a disarmament conference at Washington but fails to announce her willingness to participate in a far eastern conference.

China has also informed the United States of her acceptance of the invitation, it was announced.

Officials have by no means given up hopes that Japan will eventually agree to accept President Harding's invitation without reservation.

LONDON, July 14.—The foreign office denied today that Great Britain is seeking to bring about two international conferences on the lines proposed by President Harding, that of International Disarmament and on the Far Eastern Conference. It had been persistently reported that Great Britain had made formal representation to the conference. Foreign office officials said Great Britain was willing to treat on all matters on a single conference in Washington and that Marquis Curzon is already discussing procedures with George Harvey, the American Ambassador.

"SANCTIFICATION" SUBJECT TONIGHT AT TENT SERVICES

So great is the interest and enthusiasm in the Tent meeting of the Church of Christ on Grant street which is being conducted by G. C. Brewer of Texas, that despite the downpour of the much needed and refreshing rain of last evening which came at the very hour of gathering, more than six hundred persons were in attendance at last evening's service when the evangelist preached on the subject "Heart Felt Religion."

According to reports given by Mr. Ezell, who has served this church in the capacity of local preacher for the past six years, twenty-one have been added to their number, twelve of which number come forward last evening. Four at the water and eight at the tent baptizing services are held each day at 6:45 p. m. on the banks of the Tennessee river, just below the Albany Ferry.

Mr. Brewer preaches tonight on the subject of "Sanctification" and a large crowd is expected to hear him rain or what not.

NAVAL GUNNERS CLAIM CAN BEAT AERO BOMBERS

(International News Service)
HAMPTON ROADS, July 14.—Preparations are being made for an attack by vessels of the Atlantic fleet on two former German dreadnaughts today. The Navy gunners are now out to show that gun fire from surface craft can sink craft in far less time than by the use of Aero bombing crews which on yesterday used more than eighty bombs and over an hour's time to sink the former German liner G-102.

SHERIFF MITCHELL ORDERED REMOVED FROM OFFICE BY THE SUPREME COURT

Government Police Chief Says Warned Bradley and Place Was Closed

NEGRO WITNESS WAS "NATURALLY SCARED"

Chief Prosecuting Officer Wilkinson Able to Conduct Prosecution for State

(International News Service)
MONTGOMERY, July 14.—Sheriff George W. Mitchell was this morning found guilty of corruption of office by the Alabama Supreme Court and ordered removed.

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 14.—Aaron Black, negro, who failed to appear in the Mitchell impeachment case at Florence last week, became a star witness for the state before the Supreme court Wednesday when it took up the articles of impeachment preferred by the state against Sheriff George W. Mitchell of Lauderdale county. Black told the court he did not show up at Florence in answer to the summons because he was "just naturally scared" and that in order to avoid his part in the trial he walked out of his house and to Tennessee. He was picked up by officers later and brought to Montgomery. The negro said he was warned that it would not be well for him to be around when the case was being submitted.

When the case was called Wednesday morning Chief Justice John C. Anderson said the court was of the opinion that the testimony regarding the prejury charge was immaterial but it would be admitted and considered if other facts connecting it with things of importance were brought out.

The negro testified that he was in the kitchen of the sheriff's home at the time of the trial of Stevenson and that the sheriff warned him not to go about the court house as they had called for him several times. He also testified that Sheriff Mitchell hired him out for several weeks while he was a prisoner and that he did not collect any money for his services except $3.50 which was paid him when he quit. The state alleges that Sheriff Mitchell hired the negro to Ray Thomas and collected $41.10 from him for the negro's service. Black said during the time he was hired out he stayed in the basement of the jail paid Sheriff Mitchell $14 for board and that the sheriff paid his fine for violating the prohibition laws.

Sheriff Mitchell, called in rebuttal, testified that he did not receive any money for the hire of the negro, that Black never paid him anything at any time and that Ray Thomas was mistaken when he testified last week that he paid him, the sheriff, $49.10 for the services of the negro.

A. L. Bradley, white, who also failed to answer the summons to appear as a witness for the state, testified that he didn't appear because he went to the court house and stayed several hours and decided officers would come for him when he was needed.

This witness testified that at one time he paid Sheriff Mitchell ten dollars as fines of two negroes who had been arrested for gaming and that at another time he and a man named Battle stood for eleven negroes, the arrangement in the last instance being made with Dewey Mitchell, the sheriff's son, or Carl Anderson, the deputy killed by Stevenson. He said in the last case the fines were to be five dollars each and that he settled with Dewey Mitchell by trading him a horse, saddle and bridle and receiving ten dollars. The amount he owed, according to his testimony, was $27.50, therefore he valued the horse, saddle and bridle at $37.50.

HEROES LAID TO REST BEFITTING, VALLIANT SOLDIERS, WHO MADE THE GREAT SUPREME SACRIFICE

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 14.—Citizens of Montgomery turned out by the score in the storm of Wednesday afternoon and followed the body of Captain Julian Strassburger, who gave his life for the American nation during the heavy fighting of the war, to its last resting place at the city cemetery. Captain Strassburger's death was one of the greatest shocks Montgomery received during the world war.

The body arrived at midnight Tuesday and was carried to a local funeral home by loving friends and remained in state until four o'clock Wednesday afternoon when the funeral services were held by Rabbi Morris Newfield of Birmingham and Captain E. P. Smith, chaplain of the One Hundred and Sixty-Seventh infantry, of Wednesday morning.

which Captain Strassburger was a member.

The American Legion and all other military organizations were in the march from the funeral home to the cemetery where the body was buried. Captain Strassburger's memory has been honored by the naming of a chapter of the Rainbow division for him. A pathetic feature of the return home of the soldier for his final resting place was the fact that the body came with the body of Lieutenant Julian Honeberg, a boyhood and life long friend of Captain Strassburger.

The two entered the service about the same time, though went to different organizations, were killed during the heavy fighting shortly before the close of the war came home on the same boat and to Montgomery on the same train.

The body of Lieutenant Honeberg was carried to Selma for interment of Wednesday morning.

I hope that, at least, 100 farmers and club members will join me in this trip. It is your opportunity to find out what is going on at your Agricultural College, and at the same time learn many things worth while. Not all of the time will be given to work; we have arranged for free picture shows, watermelon feasts, and many other attractive free entertainments to all farmers and club members. Go with me.

"If interested, let me list your car, and talk the matter over. I will be at Hartselle July 16th, and 20th, for the purpose of giving you such information in regard to the trip as I have.

"All out for Auburn."

TWINS LOSE HEART IN EIGHTH INNING AND TRIPLETS TAKE CLOSE OF SERIES

Albany-Decatur Turns Out First Championship Team in Years

HOME FOLKS GO TO TRI-CITIES FOR LAST THREE

Russell on Mound for First of Four Game Series at Sheffield

The Triplets managed to take one at last from the Twins when the Twin infield and outfield selected the clouds for a camping ground in the eighth inning and then mabe M. Sells had something to do with it for he helped the Triplets by treating them to four hits before the session was over. By that time the Sheffieldites had crossed the platter just five times, just two times to many for the Twins to overhaul them.

But what the 'ell do we care? The flags ourn aint it? The Triplets, Mules and Miners can continue to fuss and fume over the second, third and celler positions but Mr. McDuff and his band of followers can take a much needed rest without having to fear that something will crawl in to their nest over night.

The lads from our own home town will take a jaunt down toward the Henry Ford prospectus today and remain there until the race is over. The Twins 'will be well represented in hurling circles today by Bennie Russell. Bennie haint worked for about a week now and is sho due for a win if his teammates don't crack as they did behind the manly frame of Sells Wednesday afternoon along about five thirty.

It was this way. The Twins counted first in the second round of their scheduled nine inning bout when Carter got the first of his four whacks out in the center field section. "Man 'O War" McClain produced a roller to "Jake" Leroy and that pudgy person used his head for something besides a hatrack and threw Carter out at second. Joe Eaks made three efforts and cooled off until the next frame. Eddie Lewis hit a fast bouncer to short and Mac went to second. "Laud" singled to center and "Man 'O War" beat the throw to the last station. Eddie was thrown out when Sells hit to Leroy and the pitcher outran Eddie to third for the last of the trio.

We scored again in the third when after two were down Manager Mac hit safely and took second on the throw that caught Johnston at third for the second putout. Carter got his second down the third base line and McDuff counted. "Babe" Eaks ended it with three more efforts.

Things rocked along in one, two, three fashion until the eighth and then the fun started. Flack first up in this fatal frame was thrown out, Sells to Johnston. Romine got an infield hit, Underwood flew to Carter and things eased up a bit. Then Eddie was safe on Johnston's error on his hop, Romine going to second. Blissett hit for a couple and both men scored. Lucas hit past Spitz and Blissett counted. Lang singled to left. Then with two on Nathan hit a high one down the right field foul line. Lewis strove hard to reach the falling horsehide and finally got his paws on it but juggled it just long enough to drop it. Lucas and Lang romped home. The flying Nathan kept on his way around the bases and was thrown out at third. Lewis to McDuff to Lauderdale. This ended the inning that won the game for the Triplets.

The Twins came back in their half with the old pep and fight characteristic of them and put one across when Johnston was safe on an error by Flack, McDuff was out at first. Carter singled for his third consecutive (Continued on Page 5.)

CONGRATULATIONS TO ALL CONCERNED ON THE SUCCESS OF THE "TWINS"

While the first half of the Alabama-Tennessee League, professional base ball season does not officially close until Saturday next, for the Twin Cities it virtually closed Tuesday afternoon, when the home team cinched the pennant in one of the greatest games ever played in this section of the state, in point of merit and enthusiasm. The deciding game was played against the "Triplets" of Sheffield, Florence and Tusculumbia and that team is now destined to stand second from the top, with Columbia third and Russellville occupying the cellar. It should be recorded for the encouragement of the lovers of base ball, that all four teams have made a valiant and plucky fight for first honors. Judged from their worthy efforts, alone, each team deserved to win the prize; but since but one can be first, and because there is an inherent and natural desire among all people to see the home folks come first, the Albany-Decatur Daily wishes to express its pleasure and gratitude for the triumph of the "Twins."

As the season opened auspiciously for the local team, it has closed in the same manner. The "fighting spirit" of the Albany-Decatur team, and its ability to think quickly and act wisely in the pinches, may be said to be dominant characteristics of Manager McDuff's professionals. Tuesday afternoon, while it is a fact that it looked like a win for the locals up until the 9th inning, after that until the close of the 11th, the winners were put severely upon their metal. The Triplet hitters, with the highest average in the circuit, for batting, got in some heavy stick work, tied the score, and seemed to have the game won, when the plucky and victorious pitcher, Bachelor, allowed a score on account of a "balk," occasioned by a wet ball and perspiring fingers. It was then when apparently beaten by one run, with darkness coming on, that the home team showed its old fighting spirit, its ability to do team work; to think quickly and accurately and to act the same way. Manager McDuff showed good generalship, also in that critical time—a time that will be long talked of and favorably remembered by the fans.

He sent two valuable pinch hitters into the battle royal and they did the rest by untieing the score and adding the needed runs.

It should be said for the patrons of the great sport, that all through the season, they have stood squarely by their team, both in bad and good fortune, and with unfaltering courage cheered them on to victory. The large success attained by the local management and the players for the first half bespeaks the same kind of success for the second half of the season which closes about September 15th.

GENERAL PERSHING DOES NOT RESCUE HARVEY; HE CONDEMNS HIM

It might have been expected that a military commander like General John J. Pershing, in speaking of the purposes of the soldiers and sailors who fought the great war to have emphasized the physical danger that threatened this country at the time we entered the war. It would have been but natural for him to have done so, since one of his chief obligations as a commanding general is "to protect the territorial integrity" of his country. Pershing had occasion to express himself as to the motives that actuated America and her soldiers, a few days ago, when he took part in a memorial service in honor of several thousand soldiers and sailors whose bodies recently arrived in this country from France. The General is reported to have omitted all reference to any protection the fallen dead had rendered their native land. He did not say a word about nationalism, or "America first." And he certainly said nothing in the nature of what George Harvey said in London, about "America being afraid not to fight," in the world war. The General, who commanded the American Expeditionary army in France, and whose direction contributed so powerfully to winning the war in 1918, did say that the soldiers of our nation, entered the war as a religious enterprise, and fought as a solemn duty. He said that they saw that the very foundations of truth and justice were being destroyed, and he reaffirmed the statement so often made by President Wilson that America fought to make the whole world a safe place to live in. When President Harding performed a similar service to that of General Pershing, a short time after Ambassador Harvey made his disgraceful utterance as to the cause of this country's entrance into the war, he went out of his way to say that the desire to destroy the evil influences of autocracy, moved America to fight. Other spokesmen for America, have been moved to speak of the purpose of this nation had in fighting with the Allies against Germany, not one of them ever sided with Harvey in his mean contention, but without exception all of them have either directly or indirectly condemned him in the strongest terms, and none have spoken more directly in opposition to George Harvey and his false words than General John J. Pershing, chief of staff of the American army at the present time, and its supreme commander when the enemies of democracy and freedom were driven beyond the Rhine.

DON'T OVERLOOK THE SOUTH THIS FALL

We hear almost as many reports of a conflicting nature about the South as we do of Russia. The sales manager who is not personally familiar with this section is liable to make a mistake if he withdraws his men from the South, or fails to go after business aggressively.

From reliable sources we learn that many lines are enjoying prosperous business in the South. The sales manager of a prominent household appliance manufacturer tells us that his business in New Orleans is showing an increase of more than 50% over the peaks of 1919 and 1920. The same is true to a lesser degree in other parts of the South.

A survey of the sales record of a well known office appliance manufacturer shows the South holding its own. The southern division made 102% of its quota in May as against 111% of its quota secured by the Central division and 106% by the Northern division. Many sales managers watch the sales of this concern because they usually indicate business conditions accurately.

There is a big opportunity for far seeing manufacturers to establish themselves permanently in the South this fall and winter. Southern merchants appreciate favors more than we realize, and the manufacturer who can offer them any kind of help this fall will reap a harvest for years to come. Right now there are thousands of southern merchants who couldn't be induced to change the lines of shoes they sell simply because some of the larger shoe houses stood by them during the stress of 1914.

Do not take for granted that everything you hear about the South is true. Remember there are all kinds of conditions to contend with. There are widely diversified sources to depend upon which govern conditions—the oil of Texas, the rice and sugar cane of Louisiana, the lumber of Florida, Mississippi and Arkansas, the cattle, wheat, oats and hay of Oklahoma and West Texas, tobacco in the Carolinas, iron in Alabama and Tennessee—all have their bearing on the condition of the South; before you decide to curtail selling efforts investigate the situation from all angles.—Sales Management.

DIGNITY OF LABOR

Remember, my son, you have to work. Whether you handle a pick or pen, a wheelbarrow or edit a paper, ring an auction bell or write funny things, you must work.

If you look around you, you will see the men who are most able to live the rest of their lives without work are the men who work the hardest. Don't be afraid of killing yourself with overwork. It is beyond your power to do that on the sunny side of thirty. Men die sometimes but it is the interval that kills you, my son. The work gives you an appetite for your meals; it lends solidity to your slumbers; it gives you a perfect and grateful appreciation of a holiday.

There are young men who do not work, but the world is not proud of them. It simply speaks of them as "So-and-So's boys." Nobody likes them. The great busy world does not know that they are there.

So find out what you want to be and do, and take off your coat and do it. The busier you are, the less harm you will be apt to get into, the sweeter will be your sleep, the brighter and happier your holidays, and the better satisfied will all the world be with you.—Robert J. Burdette.

Bad sportsmanship is bad politics, bad business, and bad every thing else!

While the Republicans were studying mean political vengeance on President Wilson, the soldiers and sailors of the war could wait. Now they are to wait again, for their bonuses, while these same "statesmen," undertake to do what they should have done twelve months ago.

When we get the country to where the radical element is satisfied, we had as well take passage to Russia.

The only thing Germany has gained by the war so far as known is—Grover Bergdoll.

If a hot summer is to mean a correspondingly cold winter, better have lots of coal stored away.

We just have to believe some things as they are said, as there are not grains of salt enough in the world to season one half we hear.

The attacks made on Former President Wilson, will come about as near having a bad effect on him as the throwing of "Brer Rabbit" in to the briar patch, came to disarrange his plans.

It should not be forgotten that most of the people who are dissatisfied with Republican rule, belonged to that unthoughtful majority of 7 million that put Mr. Harding in the White House.

People who are loaded up with responsibility find it distasteful to unload a lot of loose talk, or to listen to it.

A great many over critical anti-prohibitionists are worrying over what they call "illegal methods" in enforcing the prohibition laws. Consistency is not one of the jewels found in the snouts of those who love the odor of old beer and who like to outrage their stomachs, if not their consciences by taking illegal swills of that poison concoction.

Keeping house may be difficult; but getting the house for keeps is still more difficult.

The commissioners of the Irish Republic will doubtless demand an apology of Lloyd George as a starter, for armistice day being placed so near the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne.

All the ordinance factories will doubtless close down now, at least, until after the world peace conference as called by President Harding.

Although "bonus" means good, the Republican politicians cannot see it that way.

Disease Germs Lie In Wait for You Everywhere

No matter how strong our constitutions, every one of us are constantly open to the dangers of the millions of deadly disease germs in the air.

There is only one real protection. That is daily use of a thoroughly antiseptic mouth wash such as Steroline. As we know, most germs enter through the mouth. Thus, if we keep our mouths in antiseptic condition, germs are allowed no foothold. Besides being the approved mouth wash, Steroline is also highly recommended as a dentifrice. Being a liquid Steroline gets between the teeth, reaching the most out-of-the-way crevices, which most tooth pastes never reach. Steroline keeps your mouth cool, sweet and fresh. Quickly heals raw and bleeding gums and sweetens the breath. Sold and highly recommended by the Albany Drug Co.—Adv.

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN.

I do not fear a siren
With a mass of midnight hair,
With wicked drooping eyelids
And a blasé worldly air;
But, Oh, I cross my fingers
And I breathe a little prayer
When I meet a blond-haired cutie
With a blue-eyed baby stare!

You reach a man's heart through his stomach, a woman's through her pocketbook.

NOW, JIMMIE.

Jimmie—Mummy, it says in this book that a baby fed on elephants gained twenty pounds in one day.
Mother—Nonsense, Jimmie! Does it say whose baby it was?
Jimmie—The elephant's.

INDEPENDENT.

Rebellious Salesman—I'll have you understand I take orders from no one.
Manager—Quite correct, your daily reports show it.

IN ON THE CLEAN-UP

First Lunch Hound—Well, old strawberry, how's a boy? I just had a plate of oxtail soup and feel bully.
Second Counter Fiend—Nothing to it, old watermelon. I just had a plate of hash and feel like everything.

EASY ANSWER.

Replying to an ad that asked: "Why continue to stutter?" Mr. Stutterfuss wrote: "Because gentlemen, I have to go on talking a little now and then."

NAME IT AND YOU CAN HAVE IT

Voice of People

LET ALL OF "YOUS"
BE THERE TODAY.

Fellow Kiwanians:

A few days ago I had occasion to go into a large wholesale house. This concern by virtue of its size apparently had built its reputation and consequent prosperity on the basis of courtesy and service. I was a little late in reaching the place, in fact was there ten minutes after closing time. The man, who waited upon me informed me at once that they closed at five p. m. and no matter what I might say or from what distance I had come to buy that which he had to sell he couldn't forget that they closed at five p. m. Naturally a cordial invitation to come back the next day gave about as much flavor to the scene as squirting perfume on a honeysuckle would add to its aroma. Oh what asses we humans sometimes make of ourselves. I sincerely hope if ever I treat a potential customer in this cavalier fashion that I am fired at sunrise even if I fail to get up at that time. The individual, the association or the corporation that signally fails in that declining art of courtesy gets only what they deserve—the common contempt of those who have heretofore bought them bread and butter. It costs so little to give. It costs so much if you don't.
Dinner Thursday evening at 7:00 p. m. in the Kiwanis Club rooms.
Very truly yours,
SECRETARY.

Took Him Six Years

the Milky Weigh

"I'VE been a darn fool for six years," a dithyram said, after he used Purina Cow Chow on pasture for the first time. He saw how much more milk Cow Chow made for him in the late summer and fall.

One Pound of Purina Cow Chow
Makes 3½ lbs. of extra milk

It not only gets you more milk now, but cows stay fresh longer and give you more milk in winter. Purina Cow Chow supplies the proteins and calcium that are deficient in grass. Put it to the test—your milk scales tell the tale. See us or phone us today.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, July 14.—All pretensions to the contrary, Manhattan has the same appreciation for the frankness of the occasional spontaneous and unashamed nouveau riche that is shown by any other part of the civilized world. An so it is with chuckles of real affection that the story of the gay Charles Crocker is told whenever his family's name comes to the fore. The occasion of his somewhat austere daughter, Mrs. Charles B. Alexander and her husband—having just opened their villa at exclusive Tuxedo for the summer is enough to call forth the reminiscence. Charles Crocker and his wife used to live in that home of quick fortunes—San Francisco—and later on when their daughter was well launched in coast to coast society, and they were established in New York, Mr. Crocker used to break forth to his wife right in all sorts of presences, "Don't you remember, Molly, the days when we lived in a couple of rooms over the little store and held the cans to keep the rain from coming through the roof?"

The next time you hear someone pitying "those poor city dogs," pause a moment before you join in condemnation of the cruel owner who "keeps them cramped in a tiny apartment with no chance for air and exercise." Maybe he is more self-sacrificing in his affection than you know. There is, for instance, William O. Conway! He's the type you rather fancy living in a smartly done, luxurious bachelor apartment on or just off the avenue, probably with a man to brush his clothes and tree his shoes. Instead he enters a respectably modest entrance at 71 East 59th street and ascends stairs when he wishes to reach his residence.

A market basket full of Irish sod and baby hawthorn trees will sail back and forth across the ocean much like the hawthorn trees, maybe forever. Until the hawthorn trees grow too big to be proper passenger ship floral decorations. Miss E. A. Shanks, from Mission, Texas, arrived the other day from Queens town bearing her "bit of the old soil" and the tree sprigs as her dearest treasure, to be bravely transplanted in Texas. Unfortunately the ruling against all plant life from Europe, to guard against disease, prevented her bringing them ashore at New York. Her grief touched one of the ship's officers so keenly that he promised to keep them aboard and give them good care. So back and forth they will travel.

Miss Billie Shaw, heretofore known only as a vaudeville dancer to the general public, blossomed forth recently as a playwright, and a very good one. Five of her plays were put on at the Apollo Theatre in one week and brought the young dancer into immediate attention of the serious world of the drama. The list included an exposition of five different types of stage art; a farce which depends upon situations for its interest; a straight comedy, in which the interest depended largely upon the dialogue, a "heart interest" drama, a novelty playlet, and a tragedy.

Somerville News

THE AINTYET MARINERS

The "Francis X" steamed into port. And all her sails were set. The stern threw up a steady spray. The port holes were all wet.

The captain in the engine room. Stoked coal with manly zeal. And on the bridge at midnight. No one spoke except the wheel.

The engineer got breakfast. Upon the galley stove. And as they crossed the bar the crew. Rushed madly for a clove.

And why do you suppose that things. Were going thus today! Because the moving picture man. Had ordered them that way.

MOTHER HALES CHORUS GIRL DAUGHTER INTO COURT TO FORCE HER INTO OBEDIENCE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 14.—Has a young woman of eighteen, whose beauty, talent and hard work have brought success upon the stage, the right to order her own life as she chooses?

Or must she live as her mother decides—even when, as she asserts, she has been her mother's chief means of support for seven years?

This question right now is the most important of all questions to charming Miss Ethel Hallor, late of the Ziegfeld "Follies"—and also to her mother, Mrs. Annie Hallor, of this city.

A legal answer will be given to it by Magistrate Silberman in the Essex Market Court at an early date. The Magistrate issued a summons sworn to by the mother, charging the daughter with disorderly conduct. It directed Miss Hallor to appear in court.

The "disorderly conduct" charge was explained in court by a representative of Harry Saks Hechheimer, counsel for Mrs. Hallor.

Among other items, he explained that the mother, who was with him in court, considered that the daughter smokes too many cigarettes, associates with the wrong sort of persons and should not be living in an apartment hotel at No. 7 Fifth avenue.

Wants to Live Own Life.

Arthur T. Eagan, who with his wife and his mother, is proprietor of No. 7, was mentioned by the mother's lawyer. Said Miss Hallor, who is tall and blue of eye, and who wears her wavy blond hair bobbed, to a representative of the New York American:

"I will be in court all right. My father, who lives in Washington where he is a detective in the Police Department; Mr. and Mrs. Eagan and many friends, among whom, I hope, will be Mr. Ziegfeld himself, will be there, too, to help me.

"My father believes as I do—that as long as I am not doing wrong I have the right to live my own life as I see fit. Any number of friends, I am sure, will be glad to testify as to my character. There cannot possibly be the slightest criticism against No. 7 Fifth avenue.

Cannot Live at Home.

"I expect to show that when I tried to live at home my mother told me to leave and not come back.

"Since this is the United States, I believe that European ideas of maternal authority should not prevail.

"When she asked me to leave the apartment uptown, in which I had paid for the furniture and for which I had paid the rent, I nearly cried myself out. I love my mother.

"When I heard that she was planning to bring this action—to drag me and our troubles into court—I could not help crying. It made me feel terrible. Now it is up to the court.

"I don't know what is the matter with my mother. I cannot understand her. I love her with all my heart. She made it impossible for me to have my friends at my home. She would be cordial to them one day and would be extremely cool to them the next. Sometimes she was so good to me—so anxious to do little things for me when I came home tired. Other times she treated me worse than the worst kind of a girl should be treated.

"Three or four days ago I came here to see Mr. and Mrs. Eagan, good friends of mine. The next night my brother, Ray, came and got one of Mr. Eagan's automobiles to take mother for a ride. Then, when I went home the next night, my mother began storming about my friends. I asked her to please not say such unjust things and then asked her if she wanted me to stay with her. She told me she didn't, to get out of the house and stay out. She told me she washed her hands of me forever.

"This almost killed me."

Mrs. Hallor, as she informed Mr. Hechheimer, only had the best interests of her daughter at heart when she swore to the summons. A doctor's name was mentioned by the mother as one friend of her daughter to whom she objected. This doctor is a young Spaniard. The mother said to the daughter.

"Aren't there enough good Americans?"

Miss Hallor had made the service of the summons extremely easy. When she heard it had been issued she motored to Mr. Hechheimer's office with Mr. Eagan's mother and Mr. and Mrs. Eagan. She had wept bitterly when she was told of the action. She wept again in Mr. Hechheimer's office. Said she:

"I always have taken care of my mother during the seven years I have been on the stage. It hurts me to think she would do this."

"My father always has wanted me to live with him in Washington and go to school. But I have stuck to the stage and have given my money to my mother while in New York and have sent it to her when I was on the road.

"Last year I went to live with my sister, Ethel, in Marseilles. My mother appealed to the Catholic Big Sisters to have me put in a home. But after they investigated me they did nothing."

Ethel Hallor and her sister, Edith, were known as the "angel twins" during the time they appeared together on the New Amsterdam roof. Edith now is the wife of Jack Dillon and lives in California.

AND PAN WENT BY UNSEEN

Last night the moon was blue...was blue.

The sunflowers all turned green; You could not tell the land from sea. There was no line between; The forest hid a mystery. And Pan went by unseen.

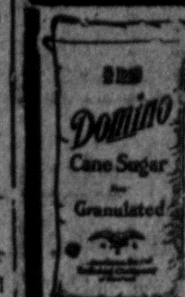

Last night the moon was blue...was blue.

The poppies kept awake; They would not lose an hour of it For any sleep-time's sake; They did not seem to care a bit The flower eyes might ache!

Last night the moon was blue...was blue.

A blossom fair and cool, Sprung from the very breast of God. The clouds were azure wool; They left along the russet sod A turquoise for the pool.

O' Prixy, girl pin up your hair And don your silver shoon, And come with me across the sands Where sleepy waters croon, And I will fill your hungry hands With mem'ries of that moon! —Adelaide Trevor in Cartoons Magazine.
